OLLIP P.C. is seeking to hire a Trademark Agent/Junior Lawyer (2+ years post-call) to join its Trademark Prosecution & Industrial Design Group. The position is in-person, and applications will be considered on a rolling basis until a suitable candidate is found.

About the Firm

OLLIP P.C. is a boutique law firm specializing in intellectual property and technology law, located in Ottawa. We protect IP assets for clients of all sizes (whether they be small, trendy local businesses or large multi-national corporations) across the province, country, and the globe.

By offering a broad range of IP experience—brand protection, litigation and appeals, copyrights, domain names, trademarks, industrial designs and mobile and e-commerce products—we have become a leading Canadian IP agency, helping to prepare, file, prosecute, protect and renew IP rights.

Perks About Working with a Small, Boutique Firm

Unlike at larger, full-service firms – where professionals and staff can be hampered by a multitude of procedures and layers of administration – we take a more informal approach to structure. So, you have more independence and your input has immediate impact. We also do not have billable hour targets. Rather, our focus is client-centric - producing quality work. We provide big firm expertise (with a similar client portfolio range) and a wide breadth of file experience in a smaller and collegial environment.
